PREFACE

This report is one in a series on Soviet Ground Force and Logistic installations being prepared for a DIA/CIA Panel. The series is being coordinated, published and disseminated by NPIC. The photographic analysis is being performed by the NPIC Photographic Analysis Group, the CIA Photographic Intelligence Division (NPIC), and the Production Center IP1c (DIA). The photographic analysis for this particular report was performed by the CIA Photographic Intelligence Division.

In the interest of uniformity, the titles and letter designators for the facilities observed at these installations are identical with those appearing in the project requirement. When a specific facility is not observed both its title and letter designator are omitted in the report.

Titles and letter designators for the various facilities are as follows: (A) railroad service, (B) road service, (C) landing strips, (D) administrative and troop housing areas, (E) storage areas, (F) ammunition storage areas, (G) POL storage areas, (H) other buildings and facilities, (J) equipment storage/maintenance areas, (K) athletic fields, (L) small arms firing ranges, (M) driver training areas, (N) tank/assault gun firing ranges, (P) flat trajectory firing ranges, (Q) artillery emplacements (batteries), (R) infantry or combined arms field training areas or courses, (S) special training facilities, (T) unidentified facilities or tracking activity.

SUMMARY

25X1D 25X1D

Irkutsk Army Supply Depot Irkutsk No 2 PUG is located (Figure 1) 9 kilometers (km) northwest of Irkutsk (52-17N 104-17E) and 26 km southeast of Angarsk (52-31N 103-54E). The installation is served by the Trans-Siberian railroad and is adjacent to the Irkutsk railroad classification yards. A probable hard-surface, all-weather road connects the installation with the Stalin highway. No military training areas were identified in the vicinity of this installation.

The installation contains 132 buildings including 2 administrative buildings, 15 barracks, 60 general storage buildings, and 55 support buildings. There is also an undetermined number of probable dependent quarters (Figures 2 and 3).

Coverage in [REDACTED] reveals minor track activity. Coverage in [REDACTED] reveals extensive track activity in all areas of the installation. The installation has undergone no apparent change since [REDACTED]

DESCRIPTION OF INSTALLATION

Railroad Service

The installation is located adjacent to the Irkutsk classification yards. A freight yard is located at the southeast edge of the installation.

Road Service

A probable hard-surface, all-weather road connects this installation with the main road, the Stalin highway, and points north and south along the rail line. Secondary roads and improved trails connect the installation with the surrounding areas.

Aircraft Landing Strips

This installation is located one km southwest of the Irkutsk Northwest Airfield (52-22N 104-11E).

Administrative and Troop Housing Area

Area D (Figure 3) contains 15 barracks within a compound area, an undetermined number of probable dependent quarters, and 11 support buildings.

A probable assembly area is located in the barracks area.

General Storage Areas

Area E1, outside the main compound area, is double fenced and served by a spur from the main rail line. It contains one administrative, 17 general storage, and 12 support buildings.

Area E2 is outside the main compound area, probably double fenced, and has a good internal road network. A small open storage equipment park is at the southeast edge of the area. The area contains one administrative, 24 general storage, and 12 support buildings.

Area E3 is fenced and contains 11 large general storage buildings and 13 support buildings.

Area E4 is fenced and contains eight general storage and seven support buildings. There is an open storage space in the northwest corner of the area.
